

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
FOR THE COUNTY OF SHASTA
Conservatorship of Alice McKinna
SUMMARY

Husband/co-conservator Robert stated that Alice is doing well and has had no major changes to her functioning since the establishment of the conservatorship in 2018. He says he is his wife's main care provider but also has a lady who comes one day per week from Compass Care to assist. Robert showed me around the home pointing out many safety features that he put in place to ensure Alice's ongoing safety. He also showed me that Alice has a "lifeline" button on her wrist to ensure that she can access help at any time of the day or night.

Robert stated that the court has granted a restraining order on Alice's daughter, Nancy, and it is in effect until April of this year. Robert explained that the restraining order was necessary as Nancy has caused severe mental trauma and depression for Alice, particularly in 2018 when the original conservatorship petition was before the court. At this time Robert reports that Alice has recovered from her anxiety and depression and is now very calm and happy.

Robert went over Alice's medications and her doctor's appointments and visits. I observed Robert to be extremely organized and he always ensures that Alice gets the very best care possible. Robert obviously loves and adores his wife and is a wonderful partner and care provider for her. I believe Alice is very lucky to have Robert looking after her.

I spoke with co-conservator/son Ray Nicols and he reiterated much of what Robert had reported and added that he had just seen his mother when she had her 91st birthday and he took her out to dinner. Ray reports that his mother is doing "great" and said, "Robert treats mom like a queen." He also stated Robert is giving his mother the very best care possible. Ray says he checks over all of the financial papers with regards to the conservatorship and says Robert "does a good job." Ray summed up the interview by saying that his mother is doing fine.
